APARNA EKANDE B. Pharm.

Dear readers,

I am Aparna Ekande, an alumna of Indira College of Pharmacy. It gives me immense pleasure to pen down what I have learned so far through my academics and professional experience. I graduated from Indira College of Pharmacy in 2016. I started studying Pharmacy with absolutely no knowledge of how vast this field is. There are usually four roads a student usually chooses from after graduating with a degree in Pharmacy. Some open their medical shops, some start working in pharma companies, some start studying M. Pharm/ PharmD either in India or in abroad and some pursue MBA either in India or in abroad. To learn more about the healthcare industry and its management, I chose the option of pursuing management and I graduated from Welingkar Institute of Management, Mumbai with post graduate diploma in management (PGDM) - Healthcare. My course content, class projects, summer internship project, and live industry project groomed me for the industry. Due to the technical background in Pharmacy and management degree in healthcare I could navigate the field of consulting. I worked for three years in the life sciences domain consulting group of Infosys Ltd, Pune as a Senior Associate Consultant. Currently, I am pursuing MS in Health Informatics at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis, USA.

The reason I wrote about my journey so far is to create awareness about how one can navigate the field of pharma. I think the key to sustain in today's rapidly evolving world is to keep up with the industry. When I started studying Pharmacy, I did not know that there is this huge aspect of the industry which deals with creating data-driven solutions. When we talk about the pharma industry, it is important to look at it as a part of the healthcare industry. The healthcare industry is vast. The pharmaceutical, hospital, medical devices, insurance, and public health industries come under the umbrella of the healthcare industry. All these subindustries function individually but are still interconnected and aim to serve the patient. Due to increased accessibility to internet, the use of technology has also increased. Today everything is just a click away! Owing to the huge number of regulations as compared to other industries, the healthcare industry has never been an early adopter of any technology. Having said that, the healthcare industry has come a long way and now focuses on creating data driven, patient centric solutions. The pharmaceutical industry itself is a data intensive industry as everything needs to be documented. When we talk about data in the pharma industry, we need to look at this topic from various angles. Let us start with new drug development. As we all know, it takes several years for a drug to come into the market. Immense amount of data is generated at various phases of the drug development. Rapid creation of vaccines for COVID-19 was possible due to the already available data of several potential candidates. Analysis of biomedical data helps in identifying effective treatments, identifying potential drug candidates, studying long term effects of diseases and drugs, etc. Today, the pharma industry is not just about selling medicines. Pharma companies are trying to look at holistic wellness of patients and are thus trying to engage them in several ways. Many pharma companies are collaborating with medical device companies and are engaging patients in innovative ways like through mobile applications. For example, some companies have developed inhouse mobile

A Glimpse into cherished times

A calm, breezy Sunday evening, sipping and enjoying my freshly made coffee, a perfect moment to gather my thoughts and allowing myself to be indulged in nostalgia and an attempt to write about it.

School to degree college transition is one of the hardest for any student. Observe any 12th grade pass out student, you will see all ranges of heightened emotions, curiosity is at its peak, equal excitement and nervousness hangs around the corner which is mostly for getting admission into your choice of field or college, and whether you will be able to have the same friend's circle or not, and then finally comes a time where everyone takes an important decision setting up the tone for the rest of life. I was no different to this, and I had already back then decided to become a scientist.

College hunting began and somehow Pawar sir's convincing words made me to think to decide upon ICP for shaping my future. I embarked on a journey of ICP in year 2011, decision with zero regrets. B. Pharm first year was the toughest one for me, unknown of group of students in same classroom, organic chemistry hybridization concepts, inorganic chemistry spiraling in my mind, intro into pharmaceuticals feared to be accurate and consistent in labelling requirements and formulation practical and then finally exciting HAP subject and so on. But I was fortunate that I was able to go through this smoothly when Aamir sir, Vishakha mam, Aditi mam, Kumbhar sir were there along the way for mentoring.

Unknown group of students became close friends of mine for life, lot of casual moments were spent on the garden, basketball, xeroxing notes, sharing food, journal writing session in library, a healthy competition between A, B and C batches during practical session, trekking to all awesome spots in Pune, attending lectures of course, and casually enjoying my friends prepping for exams up to last moment became a suddenly cherished routine for me. Medicchem and Analysis became my two favorite subjects and that was only possible because Mauli mam and Manasi mam's teaching. I just loved it.

This is equally true for all the subjects, our all teachers from ICP, they pour their hearts out to teach the subject whether it is MDP, Management, Pharmacology, Pharmaceuticals, Pharmacognosy. That is more of a reason that my foundation in pharmacy field became concrete and kudos to teachers for that. All four years went in a really cherished way. Amazing recommendation letters from Anagha mam and Kannoor sir allowed me to have a place in Campbell University, USA.

Life goes on, I have finally achieved the dream of working as a scientist in Analytical Development and I am equally happy to share that all my friends are leading good successful professional life. I was glad that I went to ICP and created a foundation for me and my friends. I would wish all the best for future students and current students of ICP and would be delighted to connect with them or looking forward to hearing their part of the story.

Cheers

Shreyas Deo, class of 2015.

My experience at SCES's Indira College of Pharmacy is one I hold dear to my heart as in these four years of study is where I learnt the greatest values of life, discovered myself and aspirations and understood the true meaning of independence as well as coexistence. As a foreign student, India was very new and different from everything I had been used to but through the loving and caring atmosphere at Indira I integrated very well even learnt common Hindi words in the process. I had an amazing set of highly qualified professors who not only delivered lectures but also made it a point of duty to make sure we understood each of it. They never failed to constantly motivate and counsel us both academic wise and on life experiences with various Samvedana sessions. I also learnt the value of my profession and my role in the society and as a part of the healthcare team. My education at Indira college of Pharmacy was not limited to the classroom only as the college availed various competitions both in and outside the college from which I gained exposure and confidence in public speaking, learnt practical lessons on winnings and losses and how to deal with both amongst many others. There were also extracurricular activities such as interclass sports competitions, cultural and spectrum events which included art, music and cultural performances. Indira

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am writing this letter to give my highest possible recommendation for Mr. Akshay Dineshkumar Shah who was a former post-graduate student in Indira College of Pharmacy, Pune, he completed his Masters of Pharmacy (Pharmaceutics) from this institute in academic year (2017-2019), where I am the principal. During two years, he has shown exceptional qualities both in academic results as well as submitting his research project before the deadline.

The first time I got the chance to know him, was when he represented his presentation for internal exams in this institute and even, he represented poster at national conference which was held in our institute, organized by CRS (Controlled Release Society Indian Chapter) in 2019. Moreover, he made all of us proud of him as he represented his dissertation under the guidance of Dr. Madhur Kulkarni and under the co-guidance of Ms. Roopal Bhatt. After that, his name started to be known among all the teachers, even the ones who don't teach him, the supervisors and of course the students.

All the teachers that have taught him witness his seriousness, leadership potential and his sense of responsibility. They confirm that Akshay is sincere and hardworking student with a tremendous drive to reach his goals. I can vouch that he is one of the most brilliant and kind hearted student that I have encountered in my career. He is an energetic, enthusiastic leader in all jobs of his class as well as voluntary activities held by institute. He is also very responsible to his work and is able to handle the pressure of deadlines very well. He has an extremely amiable personality and is popular among his classmates as he shows great consideration and deep respect for others.

Based on my observation, his ability and willingness to see on the fine-detail scale in research methodology aspects and learn subjects from grassroots, I am confident that his concentration, systematic work and great skills in performing practical will help him to achieve great success. I strongly recommend him for further study in your bestowed university.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

It is a great pleasure to recommend Mrs Priti Ghule-Dhumal as a deserving candidate and express my confidence in her abilities to pursue her master's degree at your university. In my capacity as a Principle at Shree Chanakya Education Society's Indira College of Pharmacy, I have known Priti since 2013 as she was a student of Master of Pharmacy.

Priti is one of the outstanding students I have encountered in my career. During this time, I found her to be a promising and dedicated student with a positive attitude towards academics. I observed her academic record closely from the first year, and she has improved tremendously. For her research work, she chose the experimental topic of "Development and evaluation of flaxseed oil formulation for pediatric use". I have seen her working so hard for her project as she kept me up to date with progress.

Her scheduling ensured the research work was completed within time with adequate testing. She always participated in several courses and research related discussions in which she confidently talked about her aspirations towards higher education and opportunities in the pharma field.

Priti is a consistent, hardworking, punctual student with tremendous drive to fulfill her task. As I have known her for a couple of years, I assure you of her brilliance, consistency, and keen learning abilities. I have on numerous occasions assessed her thirst for learning and dip into a particular topic of her interest. Besides her sincerity towards academics, Priti also had a placement in L'Oreal Paris during her final year of study based on her qualities and excellence.

Also, she was actively involved in organizing our college events. She attended annual national conventions, workshops and seminars on various topics which are organized by various colleges during her academic years. This shows her social skills, bonding ability, and eagerness to participate in extracurricular activities.

She is an outstanding student in all respects. I, therefore, strongly recommend her for admission to graduate studies at your institution. I believe that Priti this young student will stand to your expectations and carry out her responsibilities to the best of her abilities.

To whom it may concern,

With considerable pleasure, I am writing this reference letter in support of Ms. Summaiyya Ahmed who is applying for the Masters at your esteemed University. I have had a deep acquaintance with Summaiyya in my capacity as her professor for more than six years now during which, I have guided her during her fifth-year research project as a research guide. As per my observations, I would like to state that she is highly attentive and sincere while possessing a positive approach towards learning and academics.

Summaiyya has constantly been in the top 5 rank holders throughout her entire academic journey. She is a meticulous individual and is capable to handle critical situations. In my observation, she has the capability to complete tasks assigned to her with minimum guidance, making her intellectually independent. At the same time, she shows the rare and essential character to be a team person and work cohesively with her colleagues in achieving the set target of completing the research project in this covid pandemic situation.

She has represented the institution at various poster and paper presentation competitions. She has recently represented the institute internationally in paper presentation and won the best Presenter award. Summaiyya was always an approachable, likeable and sincere student, and continued working of the project smoothly throughout this period.

I am confident about her proving to be a valuable addition to any institution and community. I strongly recommend Ms. Summaiyya Ahmed for your reputed institution and wish her very best for her future endeavors. I would be happy to answer any questions you may have that will assist you in making decision.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am writing this reference for Ms. Priya Chand, a student I was fortunate to work with during her Bachelor's degree program at Indira College. As both Priya's academic adviser and professor of Pharmacognosy and Pharmaceutical Biochemistry, I have watched her grow into a passionate and knowledgeable person.

I have known Ms. Chand for past three years and can very well say that she has been a very sincere and an obedient student throughout. I think Priya is one, amongst the creamy layer in the class. She has been among the top three ranks since first year. She has been diligently working to achieve and maintain her position in class. Her growth in academics has increased remarkably as from being a 4th rank holder in first year she has topped in the last semester. Not only at the university exam, but she has shown her caliber by standing 4th in National level pharma quiz competition at all India level and made us proud.

Her technical acumen is among the best I have come across. Her thorough approach towards her subjects and assignments reflected a highly incisive and perceptive intellect. Her overall approach towards her discipline was that of true academician, for her the process of accruing knowledge was a reward in itself. Her awareness about the latest developments in her field of interest was far greater than that of her peers. She has done a course in "Mastering Quality Assurance Documents- Level-1" for her skill development. It was therefore not surprising that many of her classmates attached so great a value to her opinion in technical matters.

Ms. Priya Chand has been an all-rounder, apart from performing well in academics and passing with flying colors, she has been participating in a number of extracurricular activities. She has participated in a number of dance competitions, tree plantation campaigns, NGO visits and was runner-up in football competition organized by SPPU. Furthermore, Priya is very passionate about sports and has won awards in basketball, cricket, Kabaddi and throw ball matches conducted in college. She has also presented posters for Pharma Zeal and Aavishkar based on her research work. She is currently doing a research project guided by Mrs. Mansi Wagdarikar.

Over and above she is a wonderful person to know. To sum up I would say Ms. Chand will be an asset to any institution or organization she happens to be a part of. I am sure she would make your institution proud, as she has made ours. I assure you that it will be a mutually beneficial proposition if you are to admit her to the Master's program in your Department. I also strongly feel she has an excellent inclination towards research, and therefore should be encouraged to pursue her PhD as well.

Thus, I strongly recommend you to give her a chance to be a part of your esteemed university for higher education.

Letter of Recommendation

It is my great pleasure to write this letter for Mr. Onkar Jadhav who has applied for the post graduate course from your reputed university. I have known him for the last four years of his B.Pharm course. Right from the first semester, I've seen him take active participation in various events and thus have had the opportunity to observe his performance and growth.

Onkar is a really enthusiastic student. He is always optimistic and keeps working towards his goals diligently. Even during the class, he was always keen to learn more knowledge and never showed signs of exhaustion or uninterested. Because of his outspoken nature, Onkar managed to build a great rapport with all of the faculty members. As a result of which, he has gained vast knowledge and experience about the subjects because of the discussions we've had. Onkar is amazing at presenting his ideas and he can give a presentation with great confidence.

Onkar has always been one of the most active students when it came to extracurricular activities. Seeing his energetic participation in various seminars and events, I appointed him to be a lead member of the advertising team. He did a superb job in the PR team and was always ready to work tirelessly for any job given to him. He attended various training seminars and competitions as well. He has received winner position in Case Studies in Pharma Talent Quest State Level Competition, runner-up position in Patient Counselling Competition event of 54th National Pharmacy Week-2015 and the runner-up position in Visual Aid in Pharma Talent Quest State Level Competition.

Onkar has proven his merit by participating and winning various competitions. He is diligent towards his studies and gives his best efforts for any given task. A challenging course presented by your esteemed university is the perfect career path for him. I am confident that he will fulfil all the performance standards. Hence, I recommend his application and wish him luck.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

It is my pleasure to recommend Ms. Aditi Shah, for the masters program at you esteemed university. Aditi is a very highly valuable asset to the college. In my capacity as a Principal I have known her since 2013 and Aditi is one of the most sincere diligente and courteous student that I have ever supervised.

In her academic timeline Aditi has shown exceptional qualities which are worth mentioning. Her roll-up-the sleeves attitude, curiosity for knowledge and regards for seniors are reflected in her co-curricular activities like polio camps, poster presentation, etc. Her consistent grades in academics, active participation in the project work (topic- Inhibition of the paraglyco protein pump) and sports signifies her versatility in life.

She has been actively involved in studying the latest pharmaceutical development by participating as well as volunteering in national level conferences. Recently she volunteered in a conference on the subject Quality by Design. She has also made an industrial visit to Associated Capsule Group (ACG) Industry. She was also a part of an internship program at Medispray laboratories (Cipla). She then has gracefully described her experience to the faculty which surely made us believe in her enthusiasm towards this field.

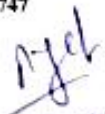

She is also the member of Anti-ragging committee of the college hostels. She has also participated in several social awareness camps. Prompt attendance in lectures, bold and confident attitude bespoken by event anchoring in several events like Pharmacist day, annual function, etc and poster presentation on the (topic marine drugs –Source of calcium) makes her a complete package for an ideal student and I assure you she will excel at your institute in every possible way. I hope my recommendation helps her in convincing your committee to enroll her for the course. My best wishes are with Aditi for her future endeavours.

Letter of Recommendation

I have supervised Madhavi since her 4th year of PharmD. I have guided 25 M Pharm students.

She had been working on a project under my supervision on the project "CRISPR CAS SYSTEM FOR DIAGNOSIS OF MULTI DRUG RESISTANT (MDR) TUBERCULOSIS (TB)."

Madhavi deserves my appreciation for always being so hardworking and helpful. She always leaves them better off than when she began, regardless of how challenging the situation may be. The work ethic and efficiency of doing any task with commitment are remarkable

She has always been proactive during the wet and dry lab practicals. She even helps her classmates to resolve their queries and improve their understanding.

With the considerations of her age and the career she is currently in, I would highly recommend her for her sincere efforts and dedication in her course work as well as co-curricular activities

Madhavi has an outstanding research acumen. Her tremendous literature survey and subsequent idea generation for developing a diagnostic device for the detection of multidrug resistant tuberculosis has led us in filing a provisional Indian patent entitled "CRISPR CAS SYSTEM FOR DIAGNOSIS OF MULTI DRUG RESISTANT (MDR) TUBERCULOSIS (TB)". This is an outstanding achievement considering her age and the area of her research interest.

She got a fellowship to attend the "KARYASHALA WORKSHOP and SNCI SATELLITE MEETING ON Scientific interventional tools to improve Cognitive behavior in children with neurodevelopmental disorders in India" organized by the Department of Biomedical Engineering, North-Eastern Hill University Shillong-793022, Meghalaya, India in the month of September 2022

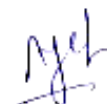

She attended and secured fourth position in the workshop "Advanced training in the immunology of tuberculosis" conducted by the International Centre for Genetic Engineering and Biotechnology in collaboration with the Department of Biotechnology, India (2022)

She won the e-Medical Device Hackathon conducted by Biomedical Engineering and technology innovation center (BETIC), Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bombay (2021)

She won Maharashtra Health Hackathon conducted by the Maharashtra State Innovation Society (MSInS) (2021)

She did her observership at Global multi-specialty hospital in her first year of Pharm D.

She held the position of the head (2020-21) and mentor (2021-22) of pharmacy education officer (PEO) of the Indian Pharmaceutical Association's Students' Forum (IPASF), Pune branch.
